should be informed through indoctrination that the VC Revolution will succeed by the middle of 1968, and VC/NVA cadre will be able to rejoin their families approx 5 Aug 68. However, if our VC determination is high our success will possibly be achieved in early 1968. The strategy is to motivate the people to revolt against RVN authorities so as to seize power. The enemy RVNAF/PVNAF proved themselves to be weak and passive during the recent battles in Dakto and Loc Ninh. They can no longer initiate large scale military operations. The American troops are no longer the main support for the Puppets RVNAF. The notes also urge rural people to be ready to support people in cities and towns in event of an uprising to seize the power.

Notes reveals criteria to be attained by villages prob in Cu Chi Dist from 11 to 20 Dec 67:

- Step up political struggle in weak areas and cities; destroy strategic hamlets in order to move civilians back to their native homes.

- Step up military and enemy proselyting activities by indoctrinating RVNAF soldiers' families; and make efforts to cause American troops to become homesick.

- Each village should be able to proselyte 50 RVNAF soldiers to defect to the VC ranks with five weapons; provide 20 recruits every three months; collect 500,000 every six months.

- By the end of the quarter, each hamlet should have one guerrilla Sqd with one sapper cell.

- The VC cadre should make efforts to persuade their relatives to provide the following propaganda materials by the end of Spring 1968: eight large banners with slogans written on them, eight large flags, 600 paper flags, 100 propaganda signs, 150 posters, three can of paint.
